Cancelling penalties wipes the ledger clean by definition; that accounting result cannot establish that borrowers have become more punctual. The useful outcome is how late newly borrowed volumes are returned. An adjacent authority retaining penalties provides a comparison over corresponding weeks, helping separate the reform from seasonal school closures. Liability for lost items should stay constant while overdue fees are tested. Support the reform if materials arrive back faster and people formerly carrying debts continue using the service.